PASTORAL REFLECTION

Today, as all of you, I am thinking about my mother. The one who loved me deeply before I was born, who carried me and gave me life, taught me about love, perseverance, faithfulness, family, and devotion, right from wrong, and how to survive hard times and celebrate the good times. I not only remember her with a deep longing today, but also my grandmothers and aunts — all strong women whose memories I carry in my bones and in my heart, and most definitely in my music.

It was my mother's mother who somehow knew that I would be a musician and bought the piano, had it delivered to our home, helped to pay for my first piano lessons, and sat behind me as I practiced until I got it right. It was my eldest aunt and godmother who, although nearly blind, taught herself to play the organ and accompanied the congregation in her small-town church in Nebraska for many years.

These women from Germany brought beautiful family traditions handed down through generations, in addition to having survived WWII with horrific stories of loss and hunger and survival and faith. In spite of the ugliness that surrounded them, none ever gave up on hope for a better life for their children. They worked and dreamed ... and taught us to work and dream.

I remember them today with a heart full of love and gratitude.

Catholic Communications Campaign collection next weekend

"God is not Solitude, but Communion; he is Love, and therefore communication, because love always communicates; indeed, it communicates itself in order to encounter the other."— Pope Francis, Message for World Communications Day 2019.

Through websites, social networks, television, radio, and print, the Catholic Communication Campaign helps the Church spread the Gospel message through the media locally and nationally. Half of all donations collected in your diocese stay in your diocese to support your local communications needs, such as radio and TV programming and diocesan publications.

In our collection envelope program, you will find an extra envelope for this. You can make an online donation by going to <https://www.thecasa.org/donate> and scroll to the "special collections" button.

Mother's Day history

In 1872, poet and social crusader Julia Ward Howe began an annual "Mother's Day for Peace." Howe was famous for writing the lyrics to the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and not at a loss for words in charting out the need for such a Mother's Day:

*"Arise, all women who have hearts, and say firmly:
Our husbands shall not come to us
reeking with carnage, for caresses and applause.
Our sons shall not be taken from us to unlearn all that we have been able to teach them of charity, mercy and patience."*

In the initial years of Mother's Day observances in Boston, many women gathered to mourn the war dead and to devise strategies for peace. The observance did not catch on anywhere else, but in 1908, Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia asked her church to hold a service in memory of all mothers on the anniversary of her own mother's death.

Faced with the power of the women's suffrage movement, politicians espoused this version of the day as a way of enshrining a more traditional view of motherhood. In 1914, President Wilson proclaimed this Sunday as Mother's Day.

Today we remember and pray for our mothers who have given us life and love ... for those who are with us as well as those who have left our sight. And we give thanks, for as a mother gives life, love, and nourishment to her children, so does God watch over and care for us.

Reflecting on the Word as a Family

What you are in love with determines everything about your life. It decides how you spend your time, what you think about, what decisions you make. When we are in love with Jesus, we desire to follow him. We desire to keep his commandments. Keeping the commandments is rooted in our relationship with the one who gave them to us. Our actions must first be rooted in our being in relationship with him; otherwise, we are following them out of fear and obligation rather than from an authentic response to God's love for us, and our love for him.

Discussing the Word as a Family

ON THE WAY TO MASS

What are ways that you can show Jesus you love him?

ON THE WAY HOME FROM MASS

Is it difficult to keep Jesus' commandments? Is there one commandment that is harder for you to follow?

Living the Word as a Family

Jesus gave us two commandments that summarize all the commandments. Read Matthew 22:37 and Matthew 22:39, and then discuss them as a family. What are some activities that you can do together as a family to embody both of these commandments this week?
